AKWA IBOM STATE CHAPTER

4 Atiku Abubakar Way, Uyo - Akwa Ibom State

Motto: Justice, Peace & Unity Slogan: CHANGE

23 April 2015

The Chairman
Independent National Electoral Commission
Abuja

Dear Sir,

Petition on the Non-Release of House of Assembly Election Results and the ongoing criminal acts to cover electoral fraud in Akwa Ibom State

1. The Akwa Ibom State Chapter of the All Progressives Congress (APC) will like to bring to your attention, Mr Chairman, that two weeks after the Akwa Ibom State House of Assembly Elections were 'held', the results of the 'elections' have yet to be released.
2. We want to note that the non-release of the election results is clearly a confirmation of our position, earlier canvassed and forwarded to you as a petition dated 14 April 2015, that no valid elections were held in Akwa Ibom State on 11 April 2015, when INEC conducted elections into the governorship and House of Assembly positions in the country.
3. Instead of releasing the results of the elections which the Akwa Ibom State INEC informed the world were conducted as scheduled on 11 April 2015, the Resident Electoral Commissioner in the state, Mr Austin Okojie, according to reliable information available to us, is now working with the state PDP and the Chief Godswill Akpabio administration to doctor electoral records to cover the fraud by ensuring that numbers being cooked up are consistent with accreditation statistics and the figures earlier declared as votes for the candidates of the various political parties in the governorship election.

4. Information at our disposal also shows that contrary to the guideline issued for the governorship and House of Assembly elections by INEC that the Card Reader must be the only means of accreditation, the REC in Akwa Ibom State is right now authorising the use of more than 600,000 copies of the Incident Form by ad-hoc staff of the commission to make up for the differentials in the numbers captured by the Card Readers on 11 April 2015 and the votes fraudulently allocated to the candidates of the various parties when elections did not take place in most parts of the state. Efforts are also being made by Mr Pius Nwankwo, the head of ICT in Akwa Ibom State, to doctor the figures earlier captured by the card readers. We note that these are criminal acts being perpetrated two full weeks after the date of the elections on 11 April 2015.
5. Yet Mr Okojie and his accomplices (Mr. Nwankwo and all the electoral officers) have so far not been queried by the commission or arrested by the law enforcement agencies. We wonder whether Mr Okojie and his accomplices are above the law of the land.
6. All these criminal acts are being perpetrated under the instruction and supervision of Governor Godswill Obot Akpabio, the executive governor of Akwa Ibom State.
7. In light of the above, which completes the narrative of the widespread irregularities and massive violence that marred the elections, and which have been confirmed by both local and international election monitors, we hereby call on your good self, Mr Chairman, to intervene and stop the farcical show in Akwa Ibom State by suspending further processing of the House of Assembly election in the state and the ongoing fraudulent completion of incident forms two weeks after the purported governorship and House of Assembly elections. This is because the election process in Akwa Ibom State has lost all credibility and threatens to erode the confidence which the world has come to ascribe to INEC under your able leadership.

8. Based on the prima facie evidence fully disclosed over the irregularities in the conduct of the elections, we demand the immediate arrest of Mr. Okojie and his accomplices. We also call for a full-fledged investigation into the electoral fraud in Akwa Ibom State.

Yours faithfully,

Dr. Amadu Attai

AKWA IBOM STATE ELECTIONS

TEXT OF A PRESS CONFERENCE ADDRESSED ON THURSDAY 16TH APRIL 2015
IN UYO, BY HON. (DR.) JOHN HARRY ON BEHALF OF THE APC CANDIDATES FOR THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS IN AKWA IBOM STATE HELD ON APRIL 11, 2015

Where are the House of Assembly election results in Akwa Ibom State?

Gentlemen of the Press

Today is Thursday, 16th April 2015 – good five days after the Governorship and House of Assembly elections of April 11 – yet the INEC in Akwa Ibom State has not announced the House of Assembly election results. We know for a fact that these results should have been announced at the Local Government Collation centres in the night of the election or early the following day, as the law and Electoral Guidelines stipulate. We know that INEC has hurriedly manufactured the results for the Governorship Election just to satisfy Gov. Godswill Akpabio and his party, the PDP. We note that the two elections (the Governorship and House of Assembly) were conducted simultaneously on the same day. So how can one result be released and the other withheld till now? Indeed by INEC Guidelines, the House of Assembly results were to be released at the Local Government collation centres while the Governorship results would then be released at the state capital. The question then is why did INEC not release the 26 House of Assembly Results at the Collation Centres, and why have they not been released until now?

Gentlemen of the Press, as most of you might have observed in the course of your work on Saturday, April 11, we can say categorically that there were indeed no elections in most polling units in the state. Our Party, the APC, has stated this clearly in a press statement sent to you; which was also published as an advertorial in The Nation newspaper yesterday (Wednesday, 15th April 2015). In fact many independent observers such as the ones from the European Union, the US Embassy, the British High Commission, Civil Societies

Organisation, INEC Independent Observation Team and many others have released the reports of their Observation Visits to Akwa Ibom, and the all of them have passed a common verdict: The elections in Akwa Ibom state were irredeemably flawed and should be cancelled. The elections were marred and disrupted by violence, killings, ballot box snatchings and many other vices. The nation has been horrified by gory pictures of Nigerians hacked to death in Akwa Ibom State by PDP gangsters, cultists and thugs. These violence and killings were so wantonly carried out because there was security failure. And there was security failure because the Chief Security Officer of the State – the State Governor – had compromised the whole institutions of the state that participated in the elections: INEC, Police, NYSC, etc.

Only yesterday, our National Assembly members, notably Senators Aloysius Etok, Ita Enang and Helen Esuene also spoke with one voice, urging Prof. Attahiru Jega, the Chairman of INEC to do the right thing and cancel the abracadabra conducted by Mr Austin Okojie and his friends in PDP. We totally agree with them.

We understand that since there were no elections in Akwa Ibom State last Saturday, the delay in releasing the House of Assembly results is because the Resident Electoral Commissioner in Akwa Ibom State, Mr Austin Okojie is facing serious problems trying to manufacture election results for the state House of Assembly which was conducted simultaneously with the governorship election on April 11. Mr Okojie, in connivance with Governor Godswill Akpabio and the PDP had quickly concocted the governorship results, allocating over 90% of the votes cast to the PDP. But in trying to cook up the numbers for our 26-member House of Assembly, Okojie and his fellow fraudulent Electoral Officers (EOs) are in a mathematical fix as there really was no election and so they cannot share the numbers without contradicting themselves with the already released results for the governorship election. This is a clear case of working from answer to question, and it has proved to be a nightmare scenario!

Gentlemen of the Press, you are aware that Houses of Assembly results have been released in all of the other 35 States in our country. But in Akwa Ibom, Mr Okojie, colluding with Chief Godswill Akpabio and the PDP, has cordoned off the road leading to INEC office in Uyo and he is busy with his fraudulent staff fabricating results and thump printing the ballot papers. They plan to allocate these fabricated numbers to the political parties in the state. But how will the REC, Mr Austine Okojie determine the sharing formula for the 'manufactured votes' since no voting took place in most polling units – about 2,000 of them - in the first place? How will Mr. Okojie and his band of mathematical magicians announce these results in the polling units, as the law stipulates; and how will they fabricate and allocate their numbers to the 329 wards and 31 LGAS? There is of course the Card Reader angle to all this. Everything must synchronise with what those devices recorded!

Yesterday, one of our eminent leaders, Chief Don Etiebet, a PDP chieftain, addressed a press conference in Abuja during which he asked the question: 'Why should INEC participate in a fraud, announce false results and then turn around to expect people to go to court?' On our part we will like to ask: How did the Original Result Sheets find themselves to the hands of PDP and government officials, instead of being sent to the polling units?

We therefore sound a note of warning that we the APC House of Assembly Candidates will NEVER, EVER accept manufactured results from Mr Austin Okojie. We therefore demand as follows:

1. Mr Austin Okojie, the REC in Akwa Ibom State, and all his corrupt staffs who took part in the criminal conduct of last Saturday should be arrested and prosecuted forthwith. They are worse than armed robbers!
2. The sham and charade exercise of last Saturday called elections should be cancelled totally. By this we mean both the Governorship and the State Assembly Elections.
3. A new REC, EOs and other officials should be recruited and fresh House of Assembly and Governorship elections should be conducted within the time frame allowed.
